

Debby Cannon is the Director of the Cecil B. Day School of Hospitality in the Robinson College of Business at Georgia State University. On the faculty for over 27 years, she has been the director of the School since 2001. Before GSU, Cannon worked with Ritz-Carlton Hotel Company and Hyatt Hotels in both property and corporate-level positions. Her industry background and academic specializations have focused on human resource management, high performance service organizations, organizational culture and work teams.

Cannon's research has been published in journals including the Journal of Hospitality & Tourism Research, International Journal of Hospitality Management, Hospitality and Tourism Educator, and the International Journal of Contemporary Hospitality Management. She was the founding Executive Editor of the Journal of Applied Hospitality Management, a scholarly research journal published by the School of Hospitality, and currently serves on numerous editorial boards of hospitality research journals. She is on the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau as well as the Boards of the Georgia Hotel & Lodging Association and Georgia Restaurant Association. She is also a member of the International Society of Hospitality Consultants.