

Steve Reed is an economist in the information and analysis branch of the Consumer Price Index. He has been with the Bureau of Labor Statistics since 1998, after receiving a B.A. in Economics from the College of William and Mary and a M.A. in Economics from the University of Maryland. He has authored several research papers related to the CPI and often writes the monthly press release and other materials.