

DAN ROSENFELT - BIO

Dan Rosenfelt is the co-founder of Electric Owl Studios, the world's first purpose-built LEED Gold certified film & TV production studio - making it The Greenest Studio on Earth.

Dan began his career scouting locations in his hometown of Philadelphia for films including The Sixth Sense, Unbreakable, and Ocean's 11.

In Los Angeles, Dan worked in physical and post-production with The Muppets and other beloved properties at The Jim Henson Company.

He then worked as a development executive for Akiva Goldsman's Weed Road Pictures and George Clooney's Smokehouse Pictures at Warner Bros, where he helped develop projects including I Am Legend, Hancock, and the Academy Award-winning Argo.

Dan then turned his attention back to physical production as president of Riverfront Stages and Third Rail Studios in Doraville, where he worked with Electric Owl Studios' co-founder, Michael Hahn.
